Research Presentations: These should be around 20-30 min long. Powerpoint is the preferred method – try to have your presentation looking as smart as possible – good structures and chemdraw settings, etc. – without spending an inordinate amount of time on it. Avoid giving a thorough background presentation of your project in the first slides and try to stick to your recent work.

Literature Reviews: About once a term, we will have an extensive literature review of an interesting and useful area of organic chemistry; this should be a reasonably thorough review of the state of the art of some area of chemistry not necessarily connected to your own. Copies of your slides should be given to Steve or Dimitri to put on the website – these should be great resources for the group and hopefully you will find out loads of useful stuff! This review occupies the whole of the group meeting so should be about 45 min - 1 h long – and will require a good amount of preparation time...
